1. Introduction

The trustees and Headteacher are committed to delivering a high-quality education service to pupils and expect high standards from their staff and contractors. In order to maintain these high standards a culture of openness and accountability is vitally important. The aims of this policy are threefold:

- to encourage staff to raise concerns about malpractice within the school without fear of reprisal
- to reassure staff that concerns will be taken seriously
- to provide information about how to raise concerns and explain how the trustees may respond.

2. Scope of the Policy

This policy applies to all school employees, agency staff, parents, contractors and volunteers engaged by the school.

3. What is whistleblowing?

In practical terms, whistleblowing occurs when a concern is raised about danger or illegality that affects others. As the person blowing the whistle you will not necessarily be directly affected by the danger or illegality. Consequently you will not necessarily have a personal interest in the outcome of any investigation into your concerns. This is different from a complaint or grievance. If you make a complaint or lodge a grievance, you are saying that you personally have been poorly treated. This poor treatment could involve a breach of your individual employment rights or bullying and you are entitled to seek redress for yourself.

4. Blowing the Whistle on Malpractice

Malpractice covers a wide range of concerns. The types of activity that should be disclosed include but are not limited to the following:

- the physical, emotional or sexual abuse of pupils or staff
- unauthorised use of school funds and/or financial maladministration
- fraud and corruption
- failure to comply with legal obligations
- endangering of an individual's health and safety
- damage to the environment
- a criminal offence

failure to follow financial and contract procedure rules

showing undue favour to a contractor or a job applicant

miscarriages of justice

deliberate concealment of information relating to any of the above

concerns about the professional practice or competence of colleagues, other members of staff or other workers

Staff should raise their concerns with the Headteacher. The earlier a concern is raised the easier it will be to take action. You, the whistleblower, are a witness to events not the investigator. You do not need to wait for compelling evidence of malpractice before raising concerns but you must have reasonable grounds for your suspicion.

When reporting a concern you should provide as much information and detail as possible. In particular you should provide the full names of the people involved or who know about what is happening, including the names of those involved, dates of events and any relevant documentation. This will help the investigator to focus on the main issues quickly.

There will be some cases where it is not appropriate for you to raise concerns with your Headteacher, for example where you suspect your Headteacher already knows about the malpractice or where you suspect your Headteacher may be involved. In those cases, you should report your concerns to the Chairman, Mr Kamil Canbay (kamilcanbay@marathonschool.com). If after raising the matter with the Chairman you are still not happy with the outcome, you may raise the matter with one of the following:

Hackney Whistleblowing Officer (Audit Investigation Team Manager) Vinny Walsh Tel. 0208 356 2536 Email Vinny.walsh@hackney.gov.uk

Executive Director for Children and Young People on 0208 314 6000 email: pinaki.ghoshal@lewisham.gov.uk

Initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. You will be advised whether an investigation takes place or not. When making a decision the Headteacher will consider whether continuing with an investigation is in the public interest.

5. Advice and Support

The school recognises that staff may wish to seek advice and support from their professional association or trade union before blowing the whistle and you are strongly advised to do so. Employees may also wish to seek advice from 'Public Concern at Work' (PCAW), an organisation which is entirely separate from the school or the Council. PCAW have lawyers who provide confidential advice, free of charge, to people concerned about wrongdoing at work. They can be contacted by telephone on 0207 404 6609 or email at whistle@pcaw.co.uk.

Whistleblowers who consider that they have been victimised as a result of whistleblowing should make a formal complaint to their employer (see school's discrimination, harassment, grievance procedures). They should immediately give details of the way in which they believe they have been subject to detriment and their reasons for thinking that the detriment might be connected with their disclosure. You may also choose to raise the matter with:

Professional Association/Trade Union

Councillor

Member of Parliament

Legal Adviser

It is the responsibility of your employer to ensure that you are not victimised as a result of whistleblowing.

6. Confidentiality

The school understands that you may be reluctant to come forward with information about the wrongdoing of a colleague or manager or indeed at all. As such, the school recognises that whistleblowers may wish to raise concerns in confidence. If you (the whistleblower) make a request for the matter to be kept confidential then your identity will not be revealed without discussing the matter with you first.

7. Anonymous Allegations

It is recognised that the purpose of a whistleblowing policy is to allow people to make protected disclosure with the protection being against any reprisals or victimisation for disclosures made honestly and in good faith. It is very difficult for some people to come forward and make a disclosure and the prospect of having to identify yourself can make the action of whistleblowing all the more daunting. You are encouraged to give your name when raising concerns. A concern expressed anonymously is much less powerful and is often more difficult to investigate and can lack credibility. The decision whether to investigate an anonymous allegation will be made by the Headteacher and/ or the Chairman. When making this decision they will take into account the seriousness of the issues raised, the credibility of what is being said and the likelihood of confirming the allegation from other sources.

8. Protection for the Whistleblower

All concerns raised under this procedure will be treated seriously and a decision made about whether or not an investigation is appropriate. Depending upon the nature of the matter it may be referred to the external auditor or the police. The person to whom you reported your concern will be responsible for keeping you informed about the progress of the investigation and the action, which has been taken, although you may not be told the outcome. In some cases the investigation may result in criminal or disciplinary proceedings. If this happens you may be invited to give a written statement or to give evidence at a hearing. The Headteacher and trustees will support you in this process and ensure that you are clear about what will happen.

9. Allegations not made in the public interest

Concerns that are raised frivolously, maliciously, or where they are known to be untrue may result in disciplinary action or, in the case of agency staff, the termination of the agency contract. In the case of contractors, the matter will be reported to the relevant authorities so that a decision can be made about the appropriate action to take.

10. Blowing the Whistle outside the school

You are advised to report any concerns to the school leaders however in certain circumstances it may be appropriate to raise concerns outside the school to the appropriate 'prescribed regulator'. This should only be done where you are raising a genuine concern in the public interest and where you believe the information is true, i.e. more than just suspicion. You are advised to discuss your concerns with a legal advisor, professional association, trade union or PCAW (see above) before reporting them outside the school. Examples of prescribed regulators are set out below:

Ofsted (whistleblowing helpline): 0300 123 3155 or whistleblowing@ofsted.gov.uk

The Audit Commission: 0303 444 8300

Information Commissioner : 0303 123 1113

Environment Agency: 03708 506 506

Health and Safety Executive : 0300 0031 647

As a last resort if it is appropriate in all the circumstances, you may choose to raise your concern outside the school to someone other than prescribed regulator e.g. the police or your MP. Provided the disclosure is reasonable in all the circumstances and is not made for personal gain, the preconditions are that you:

- reasonably believed that you would be victimised if you raised the matter initially within the school
- reasonably believed that the matter would be “covered up” if you raised the matter internally within the school or the Council and there is no prescribed regulator
- you have already raised the matter internally or with a prescribed regulator

You may also choose to raise the matter with the Lewisham Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO), (020 8314 7280), if the matter concerns a potential safeguarding/child abuse issue.
